

Totalitarian Democracy,

Le Patron,

Kisses,

Goldkiwi, thanks much for the compliment regarding my epic post in off topic comprehensively explaining our world in relation to gold and America's Totalitarian Democracy. My epic post was translated into 80 posts in a blog entitled "Totalitarian Democracy" posted in the top conservative blog in the country, townhall.com. Now get this straight, my little blog, over the last two weeks, has been, ARE YOU READY FOR THIS, The NUMBER 1 blog in Southern California, and the NUMBER 4 blog nationally, in conservative circles. People are ready my stuff, BIG TIME, like millions now, as I move up in the national ranking. Last night I moved from No.5 to No.4.

I have been No.1 in So-Cal for some time.

I have done more for GATA exposure, being true to my conservative roots, than all of you cafe lefties put together. Over these past few years, I have sent world leaders my suggestions, as documented in that epic post, and sometimes within days, IF NOT HOURS, leaders have adopted my suggestions. There are just too many occurrences to be mere coincidences, in my view. Here is the latest two examples.

Example, three weeks ago, I wrote "THE NEW WORLD ORDER", in the above blog, and there I, and only I, proclaimed that Putin, Hu, EU, ECB would eventually lead to a global currency based upon a return to real money, and SURE ENOUGH, Putin who gets my memos, two weeks later, after the Chinese called for a basket of currency through the IMF, NOW SAY, GOLD should be added to that basket, as I taught him, the only way the US fiat reserve currency status would be threatened is by a global UN treaty abolishing fiat money, with a return to gold and silver, to prevent global unfair competition. They all come my way, eventually, for the many reasons stated therein.

Example, after my 3/13/09 blog barage, BHO flies into my turf, 10 miles from my home, to counter the cafe derelict.

Mere coincidence? You make the call. And now I reflect upon the way I was treated here in the cafe in late 2005 through 06. The dog pile of a right winger was intense and demeaning, as some of the old timers in the cafe know very well. The cafe is now more balanced, which is a good thing. I have been vindicated by national blog polls as not being so crazy after all. I of course deserve an apology from the intolerant left-leaning gold bugs here in the cafe, which of course, I will not get. But that is of no import to me, as all I needed in a way of a justly deserved apology, was, GOLDKIWI being my pal. Kisses.
